Nixon as Secretary of State

Senator Barry Goldwater sat down with four reporters in the intimacy of his priwate office recently and discussed the proggess of his campaign. He disclosed in this exclusive interview with the Chicago Tribune that if he were elected he might name Richard Nixon as his secretary of state.

Asked if he had considered giving the xoters the name of some of the outstanding citizens he has in mind for his cabinet. he answered that he had been thinking about that very matter.

"It generally raises hell in your own party to announce your cabinet choices beforehand," he said, "but I was thinking Dbout Nixon, how I wanted him with me, and how this might be done to some ex-

He didn't name any other possible choices In fact he was critical of some of the men who vied with him for the nomination. "I don't think Rockefeller is going to do a thing," he commented. He predicted Governor Romney by campaigning only for himself in Michigan would go down to defeat and lose the state for Goldwater too. But he was praiseworthy of Governor Scranton and the campaigning he is doing at home in Pennsylvania and in 18 speeches in other states. "He's a real team player," Goldwater remarked.

Goldwater might do well to commit himself to Nixon more definitely and to do so to all media instead of exclusively to one newspaper. There has been much comment recently to the effect that the Republican candidate is not receiving an impartial press, but in this instance the Arizona senator was not impartial to the press

We can think of no man better qualified for secretary of state than Mr. Nixon. And politically Mr. Goldwater should remember that Nixon came within an eyelash of being elected president.

The Goldwater campaign needs a real shot in the arm in this last month. Announcing his choices for important cabinet posts could not fail to help.

Cooperate With the Traffic Survey

If Appleton's city-wide traffic survey is -to serve a helpful purpose in conjunction with the preparation of a community comprehensive plan, the cooperation of thousands of residents is required.

The origin-and-destination traffic survey was started this week and will con--linue through next with residents receiving survey forms through the mail. They are being asked to record every vehicular trip they take on the date stamped on the

In addition, 12 checkpoint stations have been set up along the city's fringe to interview motorists as they enter and leave the

All this information will be compiled by professional planners and traffic engineers who will make projections and long-range recommendations pertaining to the street and highway needs of the growing city. They will also pinpoint the present trouble spots.

It is of the utmost importance that residents fill in the forms and mail them to Harland Bartholomew and Associates at 341 W. College Ave. No postage is required in returning the survey cards.

Educational Service Areas

There has been a certain amount of confusion over the exact role of the new prooperative educational service agency areas set up on a temporary basis by the -state this fall. The purpose is to make available services, often not present in smaller school districts, which had been provided on a county level or which schools were doing without. As of next June 30, the office of county school super-Intendent will cease to exist.

This fall, public hearings may be held to determine whether the temporary boundaries as announced by the state superintendent last week are the most practical or whether some of them should be changed. The borders do not completely follow county lines. The Green Bay district, for example, includes part of Outagamie County while the Appleton district includes much of Winnebago and small areas of Waupaca. Calumet. Waushara and *Shawano Counties.

The need for the area agencies arose In part when all schools in the state became part of a school district operating a high school. This removed much of the reason for the existence of the office of county superintendent of schools. But there seemed to be cause for concern over services which the county had supplied in -some areas and which small schools could not afford on their own. And there was also, in some counties, a failure to make such services available at all. The office of county superintendent which filled a vital need during earlier years of Wisronsin history had been outmoded by the

1. There are about 10,000 young men and women who have finished high school and are now enrolled in full-time "higher education" courses leading to a certificate in the lecal adult schools. 2. The demand for places in

Observe End of Summer

Cynthia and Chris Remley booted balloons about the street in one of the games for neighborhood children Sunday afternoon at Ravinia Place. Below, the dads took life easy as summer departed and autumn pursuits, such as Sunday football games, took their attention. Watching the game are Larry Boggs, Don C. Smith, Sam Remley, Sumner Richman, Frank Kools and Roland Arndt.

Ravinia Place neighbors, not content to let summer depart unheralded, arranged a suitable farewell party Sunday afternoon. Everyone was invited, 27 adults and 29 children, for the noon to dusk party.

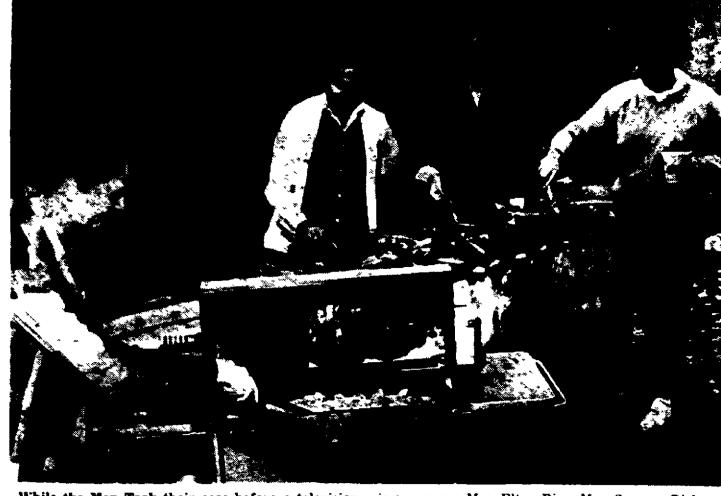

Games for children were played in the street, while corn was toasted over charcoal and beef roasted on a spit

The official goodbye to summer ceremony was planned for 4 p m., just before dinner.

The party was planned by Mr. and Mrs Sumner Richman. Mr and Mrs. Elton help with cooking, and Rice and Mr and Mrs. Don she wasn't much interest-
